

Them Before Us statement on the Alabama Supreme Court's ruling on the personhood of frozen embryos.

We applaud the Alabama Supreme Court's pro-child decision which recognizes and protects life in all circumstances, inside or outside of the womb.

This decision is an important step forward in holding the fertility industry accountable, including their processed which lead to the demise of around 93% of lab-created babies.

Recognizing the humanity of children at every age and stage of development is foundational to justice.

No matter how challenging our personal circumstances, the solution must never be to strip children of their fundamental rights and needs. A just society never insists that the weak sacrifice for the strong. It is adults who must sacrifice on behalf of children.

We must put Them before Us.
